

MOLECULAR BIOLOGY TECHNICIAN

Position Summary

At Natáur, we believe that healthy products should be produced in healthy ways. Natáur produces small molecules with renewable resources and fermentation. We have an opening for a molecular biology technician. Come join us in making a real impact on the health of the planet.

Qualifications and Experience

- BS degree in biology, molecular biology, microbiology, or related discipline
- Minimum of two (2) years of experience in cloning and PCR
- Demonstrated ability to maintain accurate and detailed records
- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Responsibilities

- Perform a wide variety of procedures and techniques which may include, but are not limited to; gene cloning, cell culture, PCR, DNA analysis, DNA isolation, oligonucleotide design, strain and plasmid construction and validation
- Maintain detailed records of experiments and their results
- Responsible for laboratory upkeep
- Prepare various media, stock supplies and other reagents for use in the laboratory
- Order and maintain laboratory supplies including chemicals
- Maintain a clean, organized, and safe work environment

Benefits

Competitive compensation

Paid time off

Health insurance

Bonus pay

If interested, please contact:

Frank Turano, Chief Research Officer

E-Mail: fturano@nataur.com